TO ACT JAPAN'S OLD LEGENDS ON FRIDAY EVENING

Members of the Japanese Children's Association have arranged the program for the entertainment which will be given at the Hawaiian Opera House on Friday evening of this week. Nine numbers have been arranged for the evening's performance, and each number will carry out the idea of Japanese training for the child.

The famous Japanese legend "Baby of Peach" will be the feature number of the program. Twenty Hawaiian-born Japanese girls will appear in this opera, and special scenery has been obtained for the occasion. In addition to the Japanese legend, the company will also present a drama entitled "Eggs of Owl" from an old Hawaiian legend.

"Momo Tara" or "Baby of Peach," is perhaps the most famous legend of Japan. Years ago a Japanese woman saw a peach floating down the stream and took a bite. Later she secured one for her husband, and left it in a drawer, and when he returned from gathering firewood that day, she looked for the peach, and found it had turned into a little baby.

When the baby grew to be a young man he went to the Islands of the Devil and there slew many of the devils and finally secured the surrender of the head devil. He took with him three soldiers, a dog, a monkey and a pleasant, and came back to Japan successful. After that time peace reigned throughout all Japan, according to the legend.

The first number on the program will be a song by the children. This will be followed by the opening address by Vice-Consul K. Fujii, president of the association. Carrying out the purposes of the entertainment, S. Tsuchiya will tell a story for the children. This will be followed by the drama "Eggs of Owl." Magic will enter into the entertainment, as President R. D. Williams of Mills School has consented to entertain the audience.

"Baby of Peach" will consist of four acts, by the entire company of young ladies and two of the secretaries of the association. Following this, Japanese young ladies will give an exhibition of living pictures. The last feature of the evening will pertain to the Japanese legend, being the unveiling of the bronze statue of the Baby of Peach and the grand chorus song written around the old Japanese story. Officers of the association are: K. Fujii, president; H. Yatsu and S. Tsuchiya, secretaries; and T. Hattori, K. Tachima and K. Uzawa, committee. The performance will begin at 7:30 o'clock.

FOUR OPERAS ON BILL FOR FIRST WEEK OF SEASON

Eugenio de Folco, who will sing Rhadames on the opening night of the opera season.

Wireless advices from the steamer Great Northern, which arrives here tomorrow bringing the De Folco Grand Opera Company, were responsible this morning for a lightning change of the scheduled repertoire for the first week of the season, which opens Monday night of next week at the Hawaiian Opera House.

A repertoire was announced yesterday, but was erroneous, the error having arisen through a misunderstanding of wireless messages. Next week's operas will be as follows:

Monday, Verdi's "Aida," with Eugenio de Folco and Jhoanna Kristoff; Tuesday, "Il Trovatore," with Madama Vergeri and Luigi Poggi; Wednesday, "Traviata," Thursday, "Il Trovatore," Friday night, "Rigoletto," Saturday matinee, "Traviata," and Saturday night "Aida."

The second week of the season will begin with "La Gioconda," on Monday night; Tuesday, "Traviata," Wednesday, "Faust," Thursday, "Othello," Friday, "La Gioconda," Saturday matinee, "Aida," and Saturday night, "Othello."

The company has an exceptionally clever woman as premiere danseuse, Emilia Costanzo, late of the San Carlo opera, at Naples, who has made a big success on the mainland.

The seat sale opened yesterday at the Hawaii Promotion Committee headquarters in the Young hotel building and sales for the first week began with a rush.
